

2005 KILIKANOON BAROSSA R SHIRAZ

Review Summary

94 pts “The 2005 Shiraz “R Reserve” spent 27 months in 100% new French oak hogsheads and was bottled unfiltered and unfiltered. Crimson/purple, it has enticing aromas of toast, smoke, vanilla, spice box, pepper, black cherry and blackberry. Layered, opulent, and long, with well-concealed tannins, it will begin to unwind with 5-7 years of cellaring and provide pleasure through 2030.”

94 pts “Velvety, graceful and generous with its cherry, licorice and cocoa flavors that swirl through the finish with hints of cardamom and clove. Not a powerhouse, but this has tremendous focus and a sense of elegance. The tannins are well-submerged. Best from 2010 through 2020. 50 cases imported.”

91 pts “Opaque purple. Powerfully scented nose offers ripe dark berry liqueur, vanillin oak, Asian spices, cola and floral oil. Broad, velvety and sweet, with weighty blackberry and boysenberry flavors, subtle tannins and a wallop of candied vanilla on the back. Almost too big for the mouth, finishing with serious cling and persistence. Impressive for sure, but how would one use this at the table? Invite 23 of your best friends over to split a bottle.”
