

2007 KILIKANOON MORT'S BLOCK RIESLING

Review Summary

92 pts “Stacked to the gills with citrus-based aromas and flavours; deep palate, and good length, though less finesse.”

91 pts - Savvy Shopper Recommendation “Kilikanoon’s Riesling Watervale Mort’s Block 2007 features vivid lime, pineapple, grapefruit and slate flavors on a steely frame...tangy in structure, with waves of lime, pineapple, grapefruit and slate aromas and flavors that keep welling up against a steely frame. Has finesse and intensity right through the long finish.”

90 pts “Pale, bright yellow. Dusty lemon and green apple aromas are complicated by sea salt, quinine and white pepper. Vibrant and sharply focused, with racy citrus and underripe orchard fruit flavors further enlivened by tangy mineral bite on the back. Lithe, precise and clean, with impressive finishing clarity and tangy persistence.”

89 pts “The 2007 Riesling “Mort’s Block” is sourced from a vineyard planted by Kevin Mitchell’s father 41 years ago. Medium straw- colored with a slight green tint, it exhibits a fragrant perfume of mineral, gooseberry, citrus, and lemon-lime. This leads to a dry, crisp, intense wine with excellent volume and length. It can be enjoyed now or aged for 7-8 years.”
