

2008 KILIKANNOON KILLERMAN'S RUN SHIRAZ

Review Summary

90 pts/Editors' Choice "Shows some of the vintage's heat, revealing hints of alfalfa and slightly raisined fruit, but also waves of plummy fruit tinged with dark chocolate and espresso. It's smooth, velvety and ready to drink."

89 pts "Opaque purple. Intensely perfumed scents of blackberry, cherry-cola, five-spice powder, minerals and black pepper, plus a suave floral note. Deeply concentrated dark berry flavors are given spine and lift by a tangy mineral quality and framed by silky tannins. The dark berry and floral notes build with air and linger on the long, juicy finish. This deep but fresh and focused shiraz is approachable now."

89 pts "This opaque and almost black colored Shiraz from Kilikanoon opens with a very aromatic and fragrant ripe blackberry bouquet. On the palate, this wine is full bodied, rich, and extracted. The flavor profile is an oak infused ripe blackberry and black currant blend with notes of anise in the background. The finish is dry and its moderate tannins are a little sticky. This manly Shiraz would pair well with slow cooked beef brisket. Enjoy."

89 pts "Deep garnet-purple colored, the 2008 Killerman's Run Shiraz has intense notes of warm blackberry, mashed blueberries, nutmeg, cassia, vanilla and whiff of anise. Crisp, full and rich yet nicely structured with firm fine tannins, it has a long vanilla and spice finish. Drinking now, it should remain vibrant to 2015+."

89 pts “Inky purple. Sexy aromas of blueberry and boysenberry, with a touch of cracked pepper adding vibrancy. Lush and creamy in texture, with lively, open-knit dark fruit flavors that are approachable right now. Finishes with good snap and sweet persistence.”
