

2008 d'ARENBERG THE STUMP JUMP WHITE

Review Summary

87 pts “Looking at the blend, it is a “what were they thinking” wine but it works. Light to medium straw-colored, the nose offers up minerals, pit fruits and citrus leading to a crisp, refreshing, dry, fruit-filled mid-palate. It has surprising length for its humble price. Drink it over the next 12-18 months.”

Jay Miller
Robert Parker's The Wine Advocate
December 2009, Issue #186

87 pts “Bright and spicy, with a floral edge to the pear and orange peel flavors, lingering nicely. “

Harvey Steiman
Wine Spectator
November 30, 2009

Wine Pick of the Week “On the nose we immediately notice the dominance of the Riesling with a good deal of citrus. But you know how sometimes you can actually smell the sweetness of a Riesling? Not so here. There is some welcome minerality. The citrus melds into tropical fruit and white flowers on the palate, with just a touch of spice. Trust us, this is not an expensive wine, but it is one that produces pleasure for the value.”

Hot in Little Rock – “Raise A Glass”
June 1, 2010

SILVER MEDAL

2010 L.A. International Wine & Spirits Competition