

2009 PLANTAGENET OMRAH PINOT NOIR

Review Summary

94 pts “Strong, bright color; without doubt the best Plantagenet Pinot Noir since ’94, the black cherry and plum fruit expression pure pinot; the balance and length on the palate are likewise impressive, and the wine will gain more complexity with time.”

James Halliday
Australian Wine Companion
2012

89 pts “Possessing a medium ruby-purple color, the 2009 Omrah Pinot Noir has a good intensity of ripe raspberry and cherry aromas with hints of milk chocolate, forest floor and spearmint. The medium bodied palate is very juicy with medium acid and a medium level of soft tannins. Drink it now to 2014.”

Lisa Perrotti-Brown
Robert Parker’s The Wine Advocate
October 2010