

2005 d'ARENBERG THE GALVO GARAGE Review Summary

94 pts “Excellent colour; full-bodied, powerful wine, the merlot and some cabernet from Adelaide Hills has considerable presence and focus, and will develop very well in bottle, with fine tannins helping..”

James Halliday

91 pts - Editors Choice “At 82% Cabernet Sauvignon, with small amounts of Merlot, Cab Franc and Petit Verdot, this drinks like a Cab, combining ripe cassis and chocolate notes with hints of mint, brown sugar and cinnamon. It’s full-bodied and a bit chewy in texture, which should serve it well through at least 2015.”

91 pts “Opaque purple-colored, it presents aromas of cedar, spice box, mineral, cassis, and black cherry. Structured, dense, and savory, this firm effort will evolve for several years and offer food for thought from 2012 to 2025.”

88 pts “Firm in texture, with red pepper accents to the raspberry, beet and herb flavors lingering impressively. The flavors won’t appeal to everyone, but this is well-made. Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot. Best from 2009 through 2013. 700 cases imported.”
