

2010 PLANTAGENET
OMRAH UNOAKED CHARDONNAY
Review Summary

90 pts - Excellent “This is a cool-climate Chardonnay from the Mount Barker township, a sub-district of the Great Southern region in Western Australia. Unoaked, this Chardonnay has zesty citrus, almond and pear notes with hints of grassy lemon-lime flavors leading to a clean mineral finish. For the price, it can’t be beat—excellent quality-to-price ratio. It pairs well with lingcod or any delicate white fish. A goat cheese crostini appetizer would work equally well.”

89 pts “I love it: the back label proclaims this is our 'oak free' chardonnay. It has abundant mouthfeel, bordering on outright richness, with honey, melon, fig and citrusy acidity all to be found.”

88 pts “Light, greenish straw. Ripe melon and peach aromas are energized by bright lemon pith. Spicy and focused, with good depth to its candied citrus and pit fruit flavors. Shows a hint of warmth on the finish, which clings with good authority.”

88 pts “Polished, focused and appealing for its almond-accented pear and floral flavors, picking up lime notes on the finish. Drink now.”

87 pts “The 2010 Omrah Chardonnay offers forward tropical fruit aromas of pineapple, pink guava and passion fruit with some subtle yeasty hints. Medium bodied with medium high acidity, a touch of creaminess to the texture and just enough exotic fruit flavor, it has a long clean finish.”

Top 10 White Wines Under $20 “100% Chardonnay from the Great Southern region of Australia. Once again Australia puts their own spin on a traditional grape. Pleasant aromas of green apple, pear, lemon cream and a hint of tropical fruit lead followed by crisp and rich flavors of citrus, guava and green apple plus some nice minerality. It ends with zesty, tangy and tart apple on the medium length finish. This is my kind of chardonnay!”

“Appearance – In my one ounce tasting pout it was clear to pale green center, heading out to a fine gold edge. Aroma – Honeysuckle, honeydew melon, buttered toast, kiwi, golden apple, pear, very nice! Taste – Crisp, smooth and balanced, ripe melon, grassy, lemon, juicy, astringent on mid-palate. Finish – That mid palate acidity holds on...and on...and on...to a very nice long finish.”
