

2012 INNOCENT BYSTANDER CHARDONNAY

Review Summary

93 pts “Light straw-green; an effortlessly elegant and effortlessly flavored wine, presenting Yarra Valley chardonnay without artifice or evident oak, simply caressing the mouth with its stone fruit flavors, the finish with that hallmark Yarra Valley length.”

James Halliday
Australian Wine Companion
September 4, 2013

91 pts “Smells of grapefruit, freshly baked bread, cashews and almonds, pears and white stonefruits. A little honeysuckle perfume as well. Flavor builds through the line and shape is maintained by good line of acidity. Finishes all citrusy and chalky with a bit of woodspice. Smart drinking.”

Jeremy Pringle
WineWillEatItself.com
July 10, 2013

89 pts “With a pleasantly scented nose of white peaches and orange blossoms highlighted by hints of lemon zest, lightly browned toast and baked cashews, the 2012 Chardonnay is medium-bodied wine offering a good amount of flavor intensity, a lively acid line and a medium to long finish.”

Lisa Perrotti-Brown
eRobertParker.com
August 2013