

2009 KILIKANNOON BLOCKS ROAD CABERNET

Review Summary

93 pts Editors' Choice "This is a dark, chocolaty Cabernet. It's full bodied and richly textured, with plenty of firm structure to support the layers of cassis, plum pudding and mocha flavors, then shows ample length to its velvety finish."

Joe Czerwinski, Wine Enthusiast
September 2013

93 pts "Deep color; saturated black fruits exhibiting lovely purity and a floral violet complexity; the palate is silky smooth and fine grained, showing great polish and precision."

James Halliday, Australian Wine Companion
2013

90 pts "Glass-staining purple. Blackberry and cherry-cola on the highly perfumed nose. Lush and creamy in texture, offering powerful dark fruit flavors and notes of vanilla and peppery spices. Big and densely packed, with impressive finishing power and clinging spiciness."

Josh Reynolds, Stephen Tanzer's International Wine Cellar
July/August 2012

90 pts "Very deep garnet-purple colored, the 2009 Blocks Road Cabernet Sauvignon has aromas of warm blueberries and black currant cordial, some coffee and toasted nuts, and a touch of caraway. Full bodied with some grainy tannins, it has balancing acid and a long finish."

Lisa Perrotti-Brown, eRobertParker.com
February 2012

90 pts "An energetic play on bright red fruit, mulch and a hint of cedar, balanced by astringent tannins. Savory with modest sappy length."

James Suckling, JamesSuckling.com
October 13, 2011

88 pts "Fresh and vibrant, a lithe Cabernet, showing modest currant and floral flavors. Lingers gently."
