

2010 d'ARENBERG THE LOVE GRASS

Review Summary

91 pts “Deep garnet; a fragrant red fruited bouquet, with a floral lift and a touch of mocha spice; the palate is fleshy and generous, with a fresh acid backbone and an intriguing note of orange peel, a lingering character to the finish.”

James Halliday
Australian Wine Companion
2014

90 pts “Dark purple. Smoky, spice-accented aromas and flavors of cassis and blueberry, with a suave incense nuance building with air. Fleshy but light on its feet, offering tangy dark fruit flavors that gain sweetness in the glass. Closes with very good energy and focus, trailing notes of peppery spice.”

Josh Raynolds
Stephen Tanzer’s International Wine Cellar
July/August 2013

88 pts “Fresh and open textured, with a tomato leaf and dried tomato edge to the berry flavors, lingering on the refined finish. Best from 2015 through 2018.”

Harvey Steiman
Wine Spectator
August 31, 2013

“One of the country’s most consistent and widely exported wineries, d’Arenberg produces a staggering range of wines and the 2010 The Love Grass Shiraz McLaren Vale ($20) is one of their best values. Flamboyantly perfumed and light on its feet, it offers aromas and flavors of black and blue fruits and peppery spices. Showing surprising elegance for its power, it drinks well now and should be even better in a few years.”

Josh Raynolds
Steven Tanzer’s Winophilia.com
August 29, 2013