

2012 YERINGBERG VIOGNIER

Review Summary

94 pts “Gleaming yellow-green; apricot and ginger aromas are followed by a particularly well balanced and textured palate, unusual for Viognier, and all the better for that.”

91 pts “The 2012 Viognier exudes a pretty perfume of warm peaches, orange blossoms and clover honey with hints of mace and coriander seed. Medium-bodied with a lovely viscosity to the texture, it has a refreshing acid line cutting through the aromatic fruit and a finish with very good persistence.”

91 pts “Green-tinged gold. Pure, high-pitched aromas and flavors of nectarine, orange zest, mint and white flowers. Juicy, brisk and light on its feet, with impressive finishing clarity and lingering mineral and floral notes. Very elegant for the variety, especially one from the New World.”

90 pts “Deftly balanced, open-textured and gently aromatic, with white pepper and ginger accents to the lemon and pear flavors. Has a refreshing quality.”
