

2012 CHATEAU DE SOURS BORDEAUX ROUGE

Review Summary

87 pts “This ripe and smoky wine has some firm tannins while bringing out bright berry fruits. It’s smooth and balanced, the structure enough to sustain the polished surface. Acidity at the end, along with the tannins, promise aging.”

Roger Voss
Wine Enthusiast
February 2015

