

2012 KILIKANNOON KILLERMAN'S RUN SHIRAZ GRENACHE MOURVEDRE

Review Summary

91 pts “This wine has always offered great value, and this is right up there with its forerunners; brightly colored, its juicy and fresh fruits are backed by good tannins. Will live, but is ready now.”

James Halliday, Australian Wine Companion

89 pts – Very Good “This pitch black colored red blend from down under opens with a mild black raspberry bouquet. On the palate, this wine is full bodied and very fruit forward. The flavor profile is a ripe boysenberry with notes of plum and oak. The finish is dry and its fruit flavors last for a little while. This wine would be a nice fireplace wine on a cold winter's night.”

89 pts “Bright ruby. Peppery dark fruit aromas show good depth and complicating suggestions of exotic fruits and succulent herbs. Spicy and focused on the palate, offering bitter cherry and floral pastille flavors and a hint of tartness. Sweeter on the finish, which is framed by smooth tannins that fade into the fruit.”

Josh Reynolds, Stephen Tanzer's International Wine Cellar
July/August 2014

89 pts “Medium garnet-purple in color, the 2012 Killerman’s Run Grenache Shiraz Mataro is profoundly scented of red currant jelly, stewed red plums and kirsch with underlying eucalyptus and cinnamon stick nuances. Medium-bodied with mouth-filling red berry preserves and baking spice flavors, it has a medium level of velvety tannins, refreshing acid and a finish with good persistence.”

Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Robert Parker’s The Wine Advocate
May 2014

88 pts “Sleek and vibrant, with an undertone of bitter chocolate playing against refreshing, peppermint-accented berry flavors, lingering gently.”
