

2010 PLANTAGENET SHIRAZ

Review Summary

91 pts “Inky ruby. Sexy, oak-accented aromas of blackberry, boysenberry and cracked pepper. Smooth and sweet on the palate, offering an array of dark fruit flavors that pick up spiciness with air. The very persistent finish shows sweetness, supple tannins and a lingering note of vanilla.”

Josh Raynolds
Stephen Tanzer’s International Wine Cellar
July/August 2013

90+ pts “Deep garnet colored, the 2010 Shiraz gives developing notes of blackberry tart, warm mulberries and dried plum with hints of salami and Chinese five spice. Medium-bodied with just enough expressive warm blackberry, pepper and spice flavors, it has refreshing acid and a medium level of rounded tannins, finishing long. Delicious now, it should keep to 2018+.”

Lisa Perrotti-Brown
eRobertParker.com, Issue #202
August 2012

17/20 pts “Mid ruby. Very attractive scent. Quite a bit of evolution and rich interest but not at all sweet.”

Jancis Robinson
JancisRobinson.com
October 8, 2014