

2012 OVEJA NEGRA
CARMÉNÈRE/MERLOT RESERVA

Review Summary

87 pts “Bright ruby. Dark berries, cherry and a hint of menthol on the pungent nose. Tangy and precise on the palate, offering bitter cherry and cassis flavors that flesh out on the back half. Finishes on a slightly tart note.”

Josh Raynolds
Vinous
June 2015

“Carmenere—historically mistaken for merlot—has a natural tendency towards the earthy, leafy elements of the red wine spectrum. While merlot in the southern hemisphere gets ripe, pure, and plump. If you put those two elements together you get Oveja, a mildly fruity, complex wine that can be enjoyed on its own or as a sophisticated food partner.”

Christopher Hughes
BostonMagazine.com
September 18, 2014