

2014 PLANTAGENET RIESLING

Review Summary

95 pts “The heart of this wine comes from 43yo vines on the estate Wyjup Vineyard in Mount Barker. It is a classic style, asking only one thing: patience. A superb wine with a further decade of life in front of it.”

94 pts “The heart of this wine comes from 43yo vines on the estate Wyjup Vineyard in Mount Barker. It is a classic style, asking only one thing: patience. While very good now, it will come into full bloom 5 years hence, a superb wine with a further decade of life in front of it.”

94 pts “One of the Great Southern's finest Riesling producers and this ranks right up with their best. Offers notes of wet stone, orange rind and florals. Good intensity here. This has paper cut acidity. A fine, focused, juicy Riesling. Great drinking now and for many years. Has seriously good persistence.”

92 pts – Editors' Choice “Based on this example and a few other informal tastings, 2014 will be a top vintage for Rieslings from Western Australia. Aromas of lime sherbet and wet stone lead into a crisply focused palate loaded with citrusy tartness that lingers on the mouthwatering finish. Drink now with shellfish, and consider holding some for up to 10 years.”

90 pts “Pale straw. Stony, sharply focused and pure on the nose, displaying fresh lime and orange zest scents and a hint of candied ginger. Dry and tightly wound, with nery citrus and orchard fruit flavors showing a refreshingly bitter edge. A suggestion of succulent herbs comes forward on the long, incisive finish, which leaves a touch of candied lime behind.”

BLUE GOLD MEDAL

Sydney International Wine Competition 2015

★★★★★ “Its grapes come from three vineyards in the Mount Barker area – the oldest one planted 43 years ago. Dry, complex and intense sums this up nicely. It’s highly floral, with loads of lemon and lime aromatics, a smooth texture that leads to minerality, lime and lemon, slate flavors. Its structure is flawless, with an even flow of flavors, delicacy and intensity that drive a lengthy finish.”
