

2013 d'ARENBERG THE FRUIT BAT Review Summary

96 pts “More towards medium-bodied, and more accessible as a young wine than its brethren. Ripe, juice-dripping damson plum aromas lead the way, but the bouquet also offers up floral notes of rose perfume and Asian spice. The flavors show some regional earthiness, but there’s a lightness of touch which carries it easily along to the lingering, sweet-fruited finish.”
