

2016 JOHN DUVAL WINES PLEXUS MRV

Review Summary

94 pts “I’d really love to taste this wine in 3-5 years’ time. It’s pleasant now, its balance and freshness admirable, but it’s the potential for flavor and complexity development that is eye – or mouth – catching. It’s specific to this wine, the blend common enough, but often bland.”

James Halliday
Australian Wine Companion
2018

93+ pts “Slender, direct, elegant and controlled. Indeed a far more elegant wine than this blend routinely produces. Built to age, you could also argue. Pebbly, spicy, stone-fruited and citrusy...”

Mike Bennie
The Wine Front
July 7, 2017

92 pts “A fresh and lively white with sliced lemon and pear character. Full body, bright acidity and a stone and licorice undertone.”

Nick Stock
JamesSuckling.com
July 17, 2017

91+ pts “The 2016 Plexus Blanc is fragrantly scented of honeyed peaches, beeswax, grapefruit peel and lemongrass with a touch of orange blossom. Medium-bodied with a lovely satiny texture, it has a refreshing backbone cutting through the expressive stone fruit and savory flavors, finishing long.”

Lisa Perrotti-Brown
Robert Parker’s Wine Advocate
August 2017