

2015 KILIKANNOON KILLERMAN'S RUN SHIRAZ

Review Summary

89 pts “Kilikanoon’s entry-level Shiraz is a heady combo of superripe, almost candied, strawberry, plum and blueberry fruit with green herbal and peppery tones alongside vanilla and milk-chocolate aromas from the oak. The palate is equally plush and ripe...”

Christina Pickard, Wine Enthusiast
August 2018

89 pts “Deep garnet-purple in color, the 2015 Killerman’s Run Shiraz conjures notions of plum preserves, blackberry tart and licorice with a touch of dried Provence herbs in the background. Full-bodied and packed with blackberry preserves and exotic spice flavors, it has a solid backbone of rounded tannins and a lively finish.”

Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Robert Parker’s Wine Advocate
August 2017

88 pts “Good hue and depth; ...the wine has some good fruit imprisoned by the oak on the medium to full-bodied palate. But, hey, the price.”

James Halliday, Australian Wine Companion
2018

88 pts “There’s a savory undertone providing appealing tension to the plump dark fruit flavors, with espresso, spice and tobacco accents. Harmonious and velvety on the finish.”

MaryAnn Worobiec, WineSpectator.com
2017

88 pts “Bathed in rich plum fruits with subtle spice surrounding a central core that’s all pervasive on the palate. Smooth and very, very ripe.”

Nick Stock, JamesSuckling.com
July 17, 2017