

2013 KILIKANNOON ATTUNGA 1865 SHIRAZ

Review Summary

97 pts “Hand-picked, the 150+yo vines among the oldest in the world, destemmed, open-fermented with cultured yeast, matured in French oak (30% new) for 18 months. Deep crimson-purple, exceptionally youthful; blackberry fruit and oak spice, licorice and earth are some of the strings of this Stradivarius violin. The tannin strings are, as always, all-important in providing texture to the structure, and also in their contribution to flavor. The French oak is evident, but is totally in balance.”

96 pts/GOLD MEDAL “Notes of blackberry with raw steak and black pepper on the very elegant nose. Floral components are present on the palate along with polished posh oak. Generous in the mouth with a very good length. Pleasure writ large.”

95 pts “Bright purple. Ripe dark berry and cherry cola scents are complemented by suggestions of star anise, vanilla and woodsmoke. Palate-caressing blueberry, bitter cherry and violet pastille flavors develop peppery spice and sweet mocha qualities as the wine opens up. Rich but lively as well, showing no excess weight. The suave, seamless and extremely long floral-driven finish is framed by supple, harmonious tannins.”

94+ pts “Deep garnet-purple colored, the 2013 Shiraz Attunga 1865 offers up a gorgeous nose of Christmas cake, blueberry pie and potpourri with hints of incense, chocolate box and cardamom. Big, rich and full-bodied, the opulent, generously fruited palate is well textured with velvety tannins, and a fine line of freshness lifts the long finish.”

94 pts “Impressive depth to this bottling of old-vine shiraz. It carries essence-like dark plums, licorice, sarsaparilla and woody spices in a confident, assertive mode. The palate’s bathed in flavors of rich dark plums and blackberries. Long, dense and succulent tannins hold effortless length. A brilliant ancient-vine shiraz.”

93 pts/Cellar Selection “The 2013 Attunga expresses aromas of blueberries, baking spices, coffee and tarragon. It’s currently very youthful, with rich, plush fruit and big fine-grained tannins, but structurally it’s set up for a long and beautiful life.”

93 pts “Dark, dense, powerful and rich, with Black Forest cake and blackberry flavors and sink-your-teeth-into them tannins. Muscular yet very generous, especially on the long finish, where the flavors crescendo, showing impeccable detail.”

92 pts “The windy forest-cool of Clare comes through in this wine from a block of 900 ancient vines. It feels generous, a healthy, clean, fragrant, black-fruited shiraz with staying power. Patient cellaring will reveal its flavor complexity.”
