

2013 KILIKANOON DUKE RESERVE GRENACHE

Review Summary

92 pts “Coming from two 80yo and 100yo vineyards. There’s fresh, dried and liqueured red fruits to choose from on the supple palate.”

91+ pts “Pale to medium garnet-purple, the 2013 Grenache Duke Reserve is scented of red currant jelly, kirsch and dried mulberries with hints of baking spice, anise, black pepper and garrigue. Full-bodied, rich, softly textured and oh, so spicy, it fills the palate with red fruit preserves and finishes with lingering peppery hints.”

91 pts “Black tea, walnut and sarsaparilla flavors are dark and brooding, on a velvety frame, with wild blackberry and blueberry flavors at the core. Plenty of personality and good concentration on the long finish.”

90 pts “A bold take on grenache with aromas of dried berries, tar and resin. The palate’s stacked with extract and tannins. Big and chewy with earthy dried berries to close. A big wine.”
