

2015 MAISON L'ENVOYÉ MORGON 'CÔTE DU PY'

Review Summary

93 pts “Deep ruby. Powerful, intensely perfumed dark berry, cherry preserve and licorice scents, along with hints of pungent flowers and incense. Sweet and expansive on the palate, offering sappy blackberry, violet pastille and spiced flavors that become livelier on the back half. Plays richness off elegance with a sure hand and finishes very long and sweet, with harmonious tannins coming in late.”

Josh Raynolds
Vinous
December 2017

89 pts “From a selection of old vines on the slopes of the Côte du Py, this wine is dense and rich from a good vintage. The rich tannins and the structure suggest an ageworthy wine that will become smoother as it matures. A juicy backdrop of black cherries and red berries will become less intense as the wine matures. Drink from late 2018.”

Roger Voss
Wine Enthusiast
September 2018

88 pts “Plush, with kirsch, fig and plum compote notes infused with floral, licorice and spice elements. This medium- to full-bodied red is backed by supple acidity and fleshy tannins.”

Gillian Sciaretta
WineSpectator.com
2017