

2015 d'ARENBERG THE IRONSTONE PRESSINGS

Review Summary

95 pts “Attractive fragrance and primary fruit complexity casting in shades of red, blue and purple fruits on the nose and palate. The depth and breadth of flavor is impressive. It is a testament to astute selection and blending of parcels.”

94 pts “Deep crimson; one of the pioneers of this (now) classic blend, it’s a relatively full-bodied example, but is balanced and not extractive. Another few years will make a world of difference.”

92 pts “Almost equal parts Grenache and Shiraz, with just 5% Mourvèdre, the 2015 Ironstone Pressings GSM shows ample complexity in its aromas of black cherries, raspberries, roses and dried spices. It’s full-bodied and almost supple for a d’Arenberg wine, with velvety tannins that linger on the savory finish.”
