

2017 MAISON L'ENVOYÉ TASMANIA PINOT NOIR

Review Summary

91 pts “Cranberry and wild strawberry flavors show accents of spice, toasted herb, gunpowder tea and tomato leaf. Fresh and vibrant, on a crisp body.”

MaryAnn Worobiec
Wine Spectator
October 15, 2018

90 pts “A joint venture between this wine’s importers and former film producer Mark Tarlov, this wine was made by the Yarra-based Giant Steps team. It’s a weighty Pinot, particularly by Tasmanian standards, and the oak is a little heavy handed, but it’s nevertheless got a lot going on, particularly once given time in the glass to open up. Red fruits and florals sit beside pepper, tar, damp earth, charred meat and cola characters. The palate is plush and satiny, with a grip of savory, earthy tannins and lifted acidity.”

Christina Pickard
Wine Enthusiast
August 2019

90 pts “Floral and herbal on the nose, the 2017 Pinot Noir adds hints of cherries and red currants on the palate. A joint venture between Mark Tarlov and American importer Old Bridge Cellars and made at Giant Steps winery in the Yarra Valley, it’s a silky, medium-bodied wine with a lingering finish of pencil shavings, dark cherries and earth.”

Joe Czerwinski
Robert Parker Wine Advocate
June 2018

GOLD MEDAL

TEXSOM International Wine Awards 2019