

2016 d'ARENBERG THE STUMP JUMP RED

Review Summary

90 pts/Best Buy “Ripe plums and red berries are followed by licorice, flowers and tarmac aromas. The palate is plump and rich, with a vice-like grip of savory, woody, tight-grained tannins, lifted acidity and crunchy red fruit.”

89 pts “The sum of its parts with dense ripe fruit, lots of spice and prosciutto that follow through on the full-bodied palate. A good drink-now option.”

88 pts “Tangy berry and cherry flavors are juicy and crisp on a firm frame, with accents of toasted herb and cedar. Details of chai tea linger on the finish, where a fresh, loamy earth note picks up. Grenache, Shiraz and Mourvèdre.”

88 pts “d'Arenberg's 2016 The Stump Jump Grenache Shiraz Mourvèdre is... characterized by red fruit and accents of tar and olive with a medium to full-bodied palate and more richness and texture [than previous vintage]. The cherries and raspberries linger in tea-like notes on the finish. As usual, it's a terrific value.”

GOLD MEDAL

China Wine & Spirits Awards 2018

“Australia is well-known for its Rhône-style wines, including so-called “GSM” blends of Grenache, Shiraz and Mourvèdre, like this version from d’Arenberg. The winery was founded in 1912, and today sources its grapes exclusively from organically and biodynamically farmed vineyards. The Stump Jump would sing with flank steak and mushroom sauce.”
