

2015 LEEUWIN ESTATE PRELUDE VINEYARDS CABERNET SAUVIGNON

Review Summary

93 pts “9% malbec included here, and I think it has its say. There’s ample classic Margaret River cabernet character for sure, and some vanilla and chocolate, but there’s an (attractive) sappy raspberry/mulberry nuance in the bouquet and palate that’s a little different. Overall it’s impeccably well balanced and supple, flavorsome but not heavy. It’s ready when you are.”

Steven Creber
Halliday Wine Companion
2020

93 pts “Lots of plum and berry character with hints of rose petals and stems, too. Medium body, firm and lightly chewy tannins and a flavorful finish.”

Nick Stock
JamesSuckling.com
June 26, 2019

90 pts “It’s a tight, smooth and supple run from this wine’s sweet blueberry richness to its dark, tobacco-scented tannins. Give it a day of air and the finish opens up, the flavors banking into a long gentle curve. For braised beef or meat pies.”

Joshua Greene
Wine & Spirits Magazine
October 2019