

2011 JOHN DUVAL WINES ENTITY SHIRAZ

Review Summary

92 pts “Bright violet. Fresh black and blue fruits on the nose and palate, with peppery spice and floral notes adding complexity. Lithe and precise, with strong lift and back-end cut. Picks up a smoky quality with air and finishes sweet, seamless and long. Approachable now, especially with an hour or so in a decanter.”

Josh Raynolds
Stephen Tanzer’s International Wine Cellar
July/August 2013

90+ pts “Medium to deep garnet-purple in color, the 2011 Entity Shiraz is attractively scented of crushed blackberries, red plums and mulberries with underlying Szechuan pepper and Provencal herb hints. Medium to full-bodied, it has a good concentration of red and black berry flavors in the mouth marked by an herbal streak and a vibrant acid backbone. It finishes long and chewy.”

Lisa Perrotti-Brown
eRobertParker.com
February 2014

88 pts – BEST BUY/Top 40 Australian Shiraz of the Year “This wine’s youthful black fruit is stretched tight as a drum across a circle of tannic strength. The tannins read as cinnamon, root vegetables and bitter plum skin, a complex flavor that needs time to mellow into the fruit.”

Joshua Greene
Wine & Spirits
October 2014

“Displaying Texas barbeque levels of sweet, savory and all-around, easy-going tasty.”

Joe Roberts
@1WineDude
March 11, 2014