

2010 BROKENWOOD AREA BLEND SHIRAZ

Review Summary

BROKENWOOD

AUSTRALIAN CRAFT AT ITS FINEST

94 pts “Has the deepest colour of the three regional Shirazs from '10, the contribution of the McLaren Vale component obvious - in a good sense - throughout. The wine is a throwback to the great Thomas Hardy three-way regional blends of the 1960s that are cruising along at 50 years of age if not savaged by the cork gods.”

James Halliday
Australian Wine Companion
2014

90 pts “Bright purple. Expressive aromas of dark berry preserves and violets. Spicy and subtly sweet, offering blackberry and blueberry flavors and a supple texture. Finishes sappy and long, with resonating spice and floral notes.”

Josh Raynolds
Stephen Tanzer's International Wine Cellar
July/August 2012

90 pts “Bright purple. Expressive aromas of dark berry preserves and violets. Spicy and subtly sweet, offering blackberry and blueberry flavors and a supple texture. Finishes sappy and long, with resonating spice and floral notes.”

Harvey Steiman
Wine Spectator
February 29, 2012