

2007 KILIKANOON KILLERMAN'S RUN CABERNET

Review Summary

89 pts “The 2007 Cabernet Sauvignon Killerman’s Run, dark ruby-colored, it displays a nose of toasty black currants and spice box. Balanced, firm and flavorful, this lengthy effort will drink well over the next 5-7 years.”

Jay Miller
Robert Parker’s The Wine Advocate
December 2009

89 pts “Deep ruby-red. Powerful, spicy aromas of cherry-cola, blackcurrant, graphite and cocoa powder. Lush, broad and sappy, with good snap to the black fruit and spice flavors. This velvety cabernet nicely blends depth with energy and finishes with good subtle persistence and lingering spiciness.”

Josh Reynolds
Stephen Tanzer’s International Wine Cellar
July/August 2009

87 pts “This seems very youthful still, with estery hints of tropical fruit still hanging around. Give it another six months to lose some of that candied edge and develop its underlying cherry and cassis flavors, because the texture is spot on, offering supple tannins and a touch of Cabernet’s characteristic restraint.”

Joe Czerwinski
Wine Enthusiast
November 2009

CRITICS GOLD

2010 Critics Challenge

“Aromas of dark ripe fruit and figs are followed with flavors of ripe plums, spice and leather. Significant tannins and good acidity combine with mature flavors to produce a wine with a heavier body and a very long finish.”

PullThatCork.com
March 17, 2014