

2014 KILIKANOON MORT'S BLOCK RIESLING

Review Summary

94 pts “Combines flavor with length. Lime and lavender with an assortment of dried spices. Such juicy drinkability. Crystal clear quality.”

James Halliday, Australian Wine Companion
2016

92 pts – Editors’ Choice “Despite a nose and palate that delivers plenty of mixed citrus fruit, this comes across as very dry. It’s lemony and crisp on the long, austere finish. Drink now with oysters, or cellar for 5–10 years.”

Joe Czerwinski, Wine Enthusiast
February 2017

90 pts “Pale straw. Vibrant citrus fruit, honeysuckle and mineral scents pick up a hint of kerosene with aeration. Vibrant and sharply focused on the palate, offering zesty lime and quince flavors with subtle tarragon and ginger flourishes. Closes taut, linear and quite long, leaving floral and citrus fruit notes behind.”

Josh Raynolds, Vinous
March 2016

90 pts “The 2014 Mort’s Block Riesling has a very floral nose of orange and peach blossoms plus honeyed notes with touches of spices. Approachable, intense and crisp, it finishes long and pure.”

Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Robert Parker’s The Wine Advocate
July 2015

89 pts “Petrol and honeysuckle aromatics give a lift to the guava and lemon flavors. Very crisp on the finish.”
