

2018 MAISON L'ENVOYÉ TWO MESSENGERS PINOT NOIR

Review Summary

93 pts “A notably ripe and somewhat somber nose offers fine complexity on the dark currant and cherry scented aromas. The delicious and refined middle weight flavors possess a lovely texture while delivering fine complexity on the linear, youthfully austere and impeccably well-balanced finale. This is terrific and well-worth investigating.”

Allen Meadows
Burghound
October 13, 2020

93 pts “Deep scarlet. Lively, spice-accented red berry and cherry scents pick up floral and smoky mineral nuances with aeration. Juicy and expansive on the palate, offering vibrant raspberry and cherry cola flavors, along with hints of allspice and candied flowers. Closes very long, smooth and gently sweet, displaying resonating red fruit character and even tannins.”

Nick Stock
JamesSuckling.com
February 3, 2020

92 pts “Bright-rimmed ruby. A deeply perfumed bouquet evokes ripe dark berries, cherry cola, licorice and potpourri, and a spicy nuance emerges with air. Pliant boysenberry and cherry liqueur flavors show fine definition and tighten up slowly with air. Shows lingering dark fruit character on the persistent finish, which is framed by youthfully chewy, slow-mounting tannins.”

Josh Reynolds
Vinous
August 4, 2020

90 pts “The 2018 Maison L'Envoyé Two Passengers Pinot Noir is a complete wine from start to finish. TASTING NOTES: This wine exhibits aromas and black of alluring black fruit and savory spices. Pair it with a rosemary and garlic-infused roast leg of lamb.”

Wilfred Wong
Wine.com
September 28, 2020