

2019 CULLEN WINES KEVIN JOHN CHARDONNAY

Review Summary

98 pts “The new release of a Cullen chardonnay is a big moment and the 2019 is right on form. Winemaker Vanya Cullen’s label informs us the grapes were harvested according to the lunar phases, and aged in biodynamic oak barrels. The wine has a medium to light-straw hue and a savory, mineral aroma with notes of wheat biscuit, malt, almond-meal and lemon, the palate very intense and yet understated, with a savory dryness in its lingering aftertaste. The palate has outstanding tension, refinement and length. It’s still a little reserved, and reveals more of its complex array of aromas and flavors the more you taste it. It will live long and evolve superbly with cellaring. Outstanding!”

Huon Hooke
The Real Review
January 4, 2021