

2019 d'ARENBERG d'ARRY'S ORIGINAL

Review Summary

92 pts “There’s a little carbonic maceration and a tiny amount of white Rhone varieties in the mix here. This wine started out as dry-red flagons in the 1950s and has long been a lynchpin of the family’s endeavors. The generosity here is undeniable, the tannins are sturdy and the fruit aromas and flavors run from red to darker-berry notes. There’s sure-footed balance in play. Such generous fruit here. Top value. Drink over the next decade.”

91 pts “This GSM showcases lovely dried herb and spice characters, like mint, cracked pepper and bay leaf, woven between fresh cherry and red currant fruit. The palate is powerful but with freshness and lift. Granular tannins are fine, spicy and supportive. Drink now and over the next several years with char-grilled meat or veg.”

88 pts “Appealing for the tangy maraschino cherry and berry flavors at the core, with red licorice, green tea and white pepper in a compact, snappy frame. Grenache and Shiraz. Drink now.”
